

GENEVA FEELS HONORS AS HEADQUARTERS OF WORLD

Violently Elbows Residents to Make Room for League of Nations.

JAPAN TAKES ROLE SERIOUSLY
Delegations Expected From at Least Forty-One Members of Assembly. Comprises Brilliant Group of Statesmen and Orators.

GENEVA, Nov. 10.—Geneva is beginning to feel its honors as the headquarters of the world and its residents are being violently elbowed to make room for the league of nations, with all its appurtenances.

The secretariat of the league, 300 strong, is occupying the largest hotel for its offices. The delegations to the assembly of the league of November 15, their secretaries and advisers, are expected to number a thousand more, taking to the utmost the accommodations of this small city.

Japan Takes Role Seriously.
Judging by the promptness and numerical strength of its representation, Japan is taking its role in the league most seriously. Its delegation is the largest already here, taking up three floors in one of the largest hotels, and quarters have been reserved for one hundred in all. Dr. Gaisa, Dr. Cuna, and Japanese ambassador, who are among the most active members in the league council, was the first delegation to arrive.

Delegations are expected from at least forty-one of the forty-five members of the league. The Japanese delegation of the league has not yet announced the appointment of a delegation, but has already facilities for a delegation.

Complete Plans Sunday.
Final preparations for the assembly will be completed Sunday by the league council, which will meet at 10 a. m. and make arrangements for the league. The league has been reconstituted "The League of Nations" and the league council will meet at 10 a. m. and make arrangements for the league.

The first important subject coming up according to the program is the league covenant. The league council will discuss the covenant and the league council will discuss the covenant. The league council will discuss the covenant and the league council will discuss the covenant.

ITALY AND JUGO-SLAVIA REACH AN AGREEMENT

Plume to Be Independent, Italian Boundary Rectified, and Islands Go to Rome Government.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to the London Times from Santa Margherita says the Adriatic question has been settled.

According to these advices the principal points in the settlement are as follows:

First, the Italian frontier practically decided in favor of the Jugoslavs; second, Plume to be independent, with territory contiguous to the third, Zadar and Italian superiority; fourth, the islands of Dalmatia, Lussin and Ugento granted to Italy.

Premier Giolitti will sign the agreement tomorrow on behalf of Italy.

WOOLLEY IS MENTIONED AS WHITE'S SUCCESSOR

Real Progress Is Made in Movement to Reorganize Democratic Party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Real progress was made today in the movement to reorganize the Democratic party in the hope of making it a dominant factor in the next congressional election. It was announced after a series of informal conferences by a number of prominent party leaders.

First of all it was authoritatively stated that George White, present national chairman, intends to retire about the first of the year in order to devote himself to his extensive oil interests.

Those in the conference discussed the question of White's resignation. Robert W. Woolley, whose term as Interstate Commerce Commissioner expires January 1, was talked of, and it was said the chairmanship will in all probability be offered to him when White retires.

COAL STRIKE IS GRAVE MENACE TO FRANCE

Miners Will Walk Out Sunday Night if 100 Per Cent Strike Is Denied.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The strike of the coal miners which will shut off all coal sources in France, will inevitably begin Sunday night, according to leaders of the men who have been informed of the final refusal of the owners to grant the demands of the men.

The men have asked for an increase which amounts to 400 per cent. The strike will affect more than 500,000 workers.

NEW M. P. IS ARRESTED AS EMISSARY OF REDS

Colonel C. P. Malone Is Taken Into Custody Following Seizure of Important Papers.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Colonel C. P. Malone, M. P., was arrested tonight at Lanyon, following the seizure of important papers at his London residence yesterday. The arrest was made by the military authorities.

Malone, who was recently elected to the House of Commons as a Liberal, announced upon his return from a visit to Russia that he had become a Communist. He is now leading the movement in England in favor of Bolshevism.

Erk Verheim, the Finn who was known as a secret courier to Lenin, bearing letters from Sylvia Danks, and who was arrested on November 10, was today sentenced to prison for six months.

TIES BINDING FRANCE AND U. S. BECOMING TIGHTER

Two Democracies Imbued With Same Ideals, Declares Premier Leygues.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—On the eve of the celebration commemorating the fifth anniversary of the republic and the second anniversary of the armistice, Premier Leygues made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"You ask me what are the sentiments of the French republic towards the United States of America at the moment we are celebrating the fifth anniversary of the republic and the second anniversary of the armistice. The French nation feels that the ties of friendship and solidarity which bind the two nations are becoming tighter. Our two democracies, imbued with the same ideal, have attained the same goal, and whenever liberty and right have been attacked, at all desperate hours of the history of the world."

"Our two nations salute in joint transports, admiration and gratefulness the American and French heroes who fell on the battlefields of the world. The French nation, as well as the American nation, has seen as on the banks of the Marne, the slopes of Montfaucon and the plains of Verdun, the blood of the two peoples flow together to create a new world."

"Never shall we forget the magnificent moral, material and military assistance which the United States brought to us during the great war which contributed so powerfully to the victory. The same solidarity, independence and human dignity which guided our two nations, always resolved to guide the world to a better destiny, to consolidate peace and repair the disasters of wars."

POLICE AND CIVILIANS IN CLASH IN DUBLIN

Constable Killed and Another Wounded Near Ballinacorney Station.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—A motor lorry containing policemen, with the escort, had a sharp clash last night near Ballinacorney, with a party of two men, who had barricaded the road. The casualties were sustained by the police.

One constable was killed and another wounded by armed men near Ballinacorney Station.

U. S. MARINES IN HAITI BRING ORDER OUT OF CHAOS

Conditions Are Much Improved, Declares Rear-Admiral Knapp, Who Makes Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Conditions in Haiti are much improved, according to a report of Rear-Admiral Knapp, who is making an inquiry for the State Department. General satisfaction throughout the island has been noted by the officer, it was stated today, with the administrative work of American marines.

Admiral Knapp visited several towns in the neighborhood of Port-au-Prince a year ago and found peace and quiet prevailing, the people contented and crops coming in, the statement said.

'FOLLIES' DANCER ESCAPES DEATH IN PLANE PLUNGE

Machine, Buffeted About by Winds at High Altitude, Takes Header Into Field.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Tossed about by the winds at high altitude, a hydroplane, piloted by Captain Frank Fitzsimmons, of Atlantic City, and carrying as passengers Miss Emily George, a "Follies" dancer, and a crowd of Bayshore, Long Island, plunged into a muddy field here today. Miss George's back was badly strained, her car was shaken up and Captain Fitzsimmons had a leg broken.

BANDITS LOCK TELLER IN OTTAWA, ILL., BANK SAFE

Convicts Are Sent From Joliet Prison to Release Bank.

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 10.—Ten military authorities were notified today that bandits had locked a teller in a safe in the National City Bank of Ottawa, Ill., about 7 o'clock tonight, and escaped with $50,000. The authorities were asked to send convicts from here to open the safe, which had a time lock set for thirty-two hours after the robbery, it being feared the teller would suffocate.

Sheriff Raids Ship.

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 10.—The Mobile line steamer Manilla was raided by forces of Sheriff W. H. Holcomb, today and several cases of whiskey confiscated, according to the office, who placed Captain Matt Knudson, charged with violating the prohibition laws.

Post Toasties

The World loosened up its corn belt when Post Toasties came on the market

— says Bobby

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

Post Toasties

TELL RAIL MEN BACK OF CAR SHORTAGE BROKEN

Result of Efforts of Operators and Employees, Assisted by Shippers.

GEORGIA MAN HEADS BODY
James A. Perry Elected President of National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners, in Session in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—James A. Perry, of Georgia, was unanimously elected president of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners today for a one-year term.

R. Hudson Burr, chairman of the Florida railroad commission, in placing Mr. Perry in nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

Mr. Perry, in his acceptance of the nomination, declared he was a man of the "new South" and a son of the old South. "I am going to name a man from 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Burr, in making the nomination. Henry Grady called it the "new South." I am proud of our "new South." I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South. I am glad that I have lived during the building of the new South.

MAY CALL SCHWAB IN SHIPPING BOARD PROBE

Admiral Benson Places Records, Officers and Employees at Disposal of Committee.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Additional evidence of alleged irregularities and mismanagement in the affairs of the United States Shipping Board were introduced here today before the congressional committee investigating the affairs of the board by J. F. Richardson, assistant secretary and statistician of the committee, in concluding his direct testimony. The investigation is based largely upon a report submitted by Mr. Richardson and A. M. Fisher, secretary and statistician of the committee, after a year's work.

At the conclusion of today's session, Chairman Walsh announced that Admiral Benson, executive assistant to Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, would be a witness tomorrow morning. Charles Walsh read a telegram from Admiral Benson, which stated that the board would not object to the committee's investigation, and that "the board were at the disposal of the committee at any time or place the committee desired."

Mr. Walsh said Admiral Benson and other officials of the board, including Charles M. Schwab and Charles E. Pies, executive assistant to Admiral Benson, would be a witness tomorrow morning. Charles Walsh read a telegram from Admiral Benson, which stated that the board would not object to the committee's investigation, and that "the board were at the disposal of the committee at any time or place the committee desired."

Cross examination by Representative Henry A. Steiwer of Mr. Richardson took up the testimony of the afternoon session. Characterizing the witness' previous testimony as "alleged" "political influence" favoring the "new South," Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South."

Mr. Steiwer asked questions as to specific instances of alleged political influence. Mr. Richardson testified that he had been brought to the attention of the committee by the "new South" and that he had been brought to